Dunsmuir's Hold on Millions is Broken.

Harry Gets Ten Years, John Doe's Estate.

San Francisco, March 27.—Edna Dunsmuir, the actress, has won the victory in the fight for the seven-million-dollar estate of the late Alexander Dunsmuir.

She declared void all proceedings in her court in May, 1904. Instead, it was carried to the original will, which was not in the hands of the court.

The original will must be produced in San Francisco and its filing will, of course, be a contest for Miss Hopper and her mother, Mrs. John Doe, who had thought himself in possession of the vast estate, and who means a great disappointment to him.

She has such radical action in a California court. Judge James Dunsen's plan to throw out of court all the papers drawn up by the late Dunsmuir's estate, and the original will in Victoria, B. C., is not necessary to give her the will proven by the testimony of witnesses, and then instituting proceedings in San Francisco.

She rendered a lengthy opinion, dwelling particularly on the facts of the case. He said the ruling would make it possible for the estate, involving millions of dollars of property, to be brought back to the same grounds. Judge said that Dunsmuir's own estate in the will that he was a son of San Francisco. He was a son of San Francisco. He was a son of San Francisco.

STATE OF JOHN DOE.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

San Francisco, March 27.—The trial of the estate of John Doe, which was commenced today in Judge Coffey's court, when the estate of John Doe was called up for final disposition. This estate has been pending in the probate department for more than a year.

It was only by the mere chance that the estate of John Doe was saved for Frank L. Doe, who, together with interest, in the neighborhood of $100,000, S. Doe, a wealthy pioneer, in his will that each of his sons, John and Frank, should receive a sum of $100,000. All of these legacies were long paid, but the one in consideration of John Doe had been considered dead by his father, who had not heard from him for a period of over thirty years.

RAILS STRETCH OVER BORDER.

New Imperial Extension Soon to be Opened.

Reaches Twenty-eight Miles Into Mexico.

Salt Lake Tells Tale of Arrowhead Symbol.

The new Imperial Valley extension of the Southern Pacific Railroad from Calexico across the line into Mexico is to be completed for operation within two months. The line will be twenty-eight miles long and will open up a rich section of the new farming country.

George A. Parkyn, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, who returned from the Imperial country yesterday, said that six or seven miles of track had been laid on the extension and that the grading had been done for more than one-half the entire length.

Mr. Parkyn was accompanied on his trip by Division Superintendent Ingram, and together they traveled for several days in a carriage over the country tributary to their line in the Imperial section. They covered nearly 150 miles in this manner.

"The new line across the border into Mexico is intended to meet the growing demand for additional railroad facilities," said Mr. Parkyn yesterday. "I have been over the line several times in the four years since that time was nothing but an unpromising desert, but I was more than ever impressed this time with the wonderful transformation."

"It is estimated that there will be at least 400,000 sacks of grain in this season's crop, while there are from 25,000 to 30,000 cattle and as many horses, together with a diversity of crops. The stock is as fat as butter, the barley is ripening and everything is in fine condition. There are 30,000 acres planted to grain."

"I think that Los Angeles people do not fully realize the great achievement that has been accomplished in the conquering of that 600 square miles of desert land through the agency of water from the Colorado River, but if they could have seen what I saw last week they would appreciate its importance to this entire section."

"In addition to the present line of railroad from the connection with the main line at Old Beach to Calexico, and the line in course of construction into Mexico, there is a private line eleven miles long that runs from a point on the Calexico branch to Holtville. This was built to meet the demand for moving the crops and is an index of the importance of this agricultural section."

MAKE CHOICE OF CAMPGROUND.

OLD SOLDIERS WILL TENT AT HUNTINGTON BEACH.

Southern California Veterans Encampment Association Will Choose the Site and Site of the New Location in September—Entertainment Committee.

The matter of choosing a location for the annual encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Encampment Association was taken up at a meeting of the association held at No. 125 1/2 South Spring street yesterday, and Huntington Beach was eventually selected.

A. B. Paul of Santa Ana, commander of the association, presided over the meeting, and Adj. S. W. Smith kept the minutes. Veterans from Colton, Riverside and other points were present, as were also Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Dunning, respectively, commander and senior vice-commander of the Ladies' Auxiliary; Mrs. Spence, president of Columbia Circle, and Mrs. Gibson of Union Circle.

When bids were called for, J. A. Miller, secretary of the Long Beach Board of Trade, presented the advantages of Long Beach as a place for the encampment, and John Dubois presented those of Huntington Beach. W. A. Sigbee of the traffic department of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway spoke for Redondo, though explicitly stating that he had not been detailed to take up the tent or beach requirements for the encampment, but simply to represent the railway transportation end, as he understood that was the purpose of the meeting. The Redondo Improvement Company, he said, would have charge of the other arrangements, if Redondo were selected as the place.

Dubois offered quarters at Huntington Beach for 500 persons and a cash bonus of $250 to meet the cost of the expenses of the encampment. He advocated the establishment of the association of a permanent encampment site, and offered the Huntington Beach location, if, after experience, the proposition were found to be mutually agreeable to the veterans and the beach people. The tents would be floored, he said, and equipped as at the last encampment at Coronado, and the tent rates would be the same as at Coronado. In reply to other questions, he said that a meat tent would be erected on the grounds, with the cooperation of local interests and the association, at which lunches or meals could be had; a flagpole would be erected in the center of the grounds, and the streets would be sprinkled. He said, special attention would be given to sanitation. A vote was taken in executive session, and Huntington Beach was chosen, the encampment to open Tuesday, September 2, for a period of ten days. Thanks were extended to Long Beach and Redondo for their offers.

Past Commander Hamilton of Colton said that a strong corporation should be formed, if it was the intention to take up a permanent location at Huntington Beach, but Quartermaster J. E. Mack suggested that that was a matter which could be left up later. Some other subjects were discussed prior to adjournment, and an informal invitation to attend a forthcoming reception in this city to the Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Veterans was accepted.

NOTABLE HONOR FOR A CHINESE MAIDEN.

Jessie Kam, First Chinese delegate to a Sunday-School Convention.

NEXT week when the State Sunday-school convention meets at Immanuel Church, among the delegates will be a little eleven-year-old Chinese girl, Miss Jessie Kam, sent as a representative of the Methodist Episcopal Chinese Sunday-school of this city.

She is the first Chinese girl ever sent as a delegate to a State convention, and when she received her credentials Sunday from the superintendent of the school of which she is a member, there was not a happier or prouder little girl in the city. Her father, Chung Kam, who is secretary of the Sunday-school, is also a delegate, and will attend the convention with his little daughter.

Miss Jessie was born in this city of Christian parents, and brought into the Sunday-school, which she now has the honor to represent, when she was a little more than 4 weeks old. She was baptized into the church when she was 3 months old, and as soon as she became of school age entered the public schools, and is now one of the brightest pupils in her class at the Olive-street school. Her mother was born in Chinatown, in San Francisco, and received her education and Christian training in the Methodist Oriental Home of that city, where she resided until she married Chung Kam, a prosperous merchant on Fifth street.

Miss Jessie inherits from her mother a very sweet voice, and is always in demand to sing or recite at the entertainments given at the mission, so she will doubtless be heard during the convention. She is thoroughly well-learned, and has never won the oriental school children's title city. On one of these occasions she was introduced to let the camera work at her, and the result is reproduced above. Mr. Kam's little daughter is one of the best-dressed children in the city. All her clothes being fashioned and designed by her father, and are strictly American and up-to-date.

Besides the lecture by M. Brentano, music will be furnished by Mrs. Arnold Kraus, violinist; and Mrs. T. Mason, pianist. Jean Poulin will sing, and Miss Jennie Winston will give a group of French songs and Mrs. George W. Le Sage will sing selections from Carmen.

Rejoicing.
There is rejoicing in the ranks of the Y.W.C.A. Association of the University of Southern California. The Westlake Methodist Church made a present of $50 to the Capitolia fund; the University Methodist Church took up a collection for the same cause, Sunday; and in consequence this college is enabled to send additional delegates to the annual coast conference.

Six girls of the Phi Gamma Upsilon sorority are among the delegates, and they will stop over several days on their return to visit their sorority sisters at Stanford University. These are Katherine Atkinson, Ethel Hogan, Maud Speicher, Susie Shenk, Edna Boyard and Hazel Hill. Miss Beulah Wright, dean of the College of Oratory will accompany the girls.

NUTS FOR US.
Fresh Samples of All the European Walnuts do Not Compare With Ours.

Yesterday Secretary Frank Wiggins, of the Chamber of Commerce received from the J. K. Armory Company of San Francisco five walnut samples taken in the French orchards of Grenoble. The nuts were immediately placed on exhibition, beside the Bordeaux nuts, and now complete the chamber's collection of famous European nuts. Previous to entry of the California product in the markets, these were known as the best that could be raised.

The specimens come from the district of Grenoble, department of Isere. They comprise samples of Mayettes, Parisiennes, Franquettes, Commercials and Chabert. According to the Armyby statements, half the nuts grown in this district are Mayettes, while almost the whole of the other half is comprised of Parisiennes and Franquettes. Chabert are grown in the mountains and foothill districts; they are seldom sold in the shell, and after being taken to the towns—principally to Grenoble—are shelled by hand. They are used by pastry cooks and confectioners all over the world.

With the Bordeaux nuts, the varieties named complete the entire European group, with the exception of a few Naples walnuts, grown at Sorrento, Italy.

In this local exhibit they are virtually surrounded by models and cases of the California product—and the comparison is very bad for the European growing. The French nuts are inferior in size, not so regular in shape, much darker in color, and possess none of the softness and richness of appearance which characterize the walnut as produced in Los Angeles, Orange and Riverside counties.

What Wigfall Would Do.
After the collapse of the Confederacy ex-Senator Wigfall, a member of the United States Congress from Texas, fell in with a party of Union soldiers that State. Being well disguised, he entered freely into conversation with the soldiers of the guard, in the course of which he asked what they would do with "old Wigfall" if they were to catch him. "We would hang him, sure," was the prompt reply. "Serve him right," exclaimed Wigfall. "If I were with you I'd be pulling at one end of the rope myself!"—Chicago News.

Freppf Alliance.
M. Frantz Funck-Brentano, the well-known French seaman, who has been lecturing in this country since last November, will address L. Alliance Francaise at Fresno Hill, Wednesday evening. His subject will be, "La Russie, et la Masque de Fer," of which he can speak with authority having spent ten years in classifying the archives in that famous old prison and having published for the benefit of the public at large the "Legende de Archaives de la Russie," and just lately a full list of the prisoners confined there.

JACKIES CAPITULATE.

Firm Trolley Conductor Too Much for Naval Militiamen in a Fight.

Twenty-six enlisted men of the engineer division, Naval Militia of California, under Lieut. Costerman and Woodbine, had a fine cruise on the warships Chicago, Wyoming and Perry from San Diego to Magdalena Bay and return, but they didn't enjoy their reception in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon when they alighted from a Santa Fe train after an experience of two weeks as real man-of-war men.

Lagrange is an essential feature of a man in the engineer division, and when the jolly jack tars left La Granda station to take trolley cars they had plenty of it.

A number of them were bound out West Jefferson street way and when they spotted a University car of the Interurban Company near the station they immediately took charge and piled hammocks and luggage high on the platform.

The conductor remonstrated, on the ground that there was no room for passengers, but the sailor boys began to argue the point. A war of words followed, while a line of cars packed up in the rear.

"Aw, 'sawn will ya," yelled a motor-man in the car, "let 'em go." "Get out an' give us a show," yelled another.

Meantime the argument was continued but the car didn't budge. Passengers from the incoming train piled upon the blockaded cars and the main branch of the line. The conductor was firm even though his own motor-man—a good-natured Swede—said: "I tank ye go now."

Finally the naval militiamen were forced to capitulate and remove the luggage; then the car proceeded bearing passengers with bad tempers and sailors' lugs.

Steel and Stone.
The steel product of the United States in the last year of return amounted to about 45 per cent. of the world's total output.

Among the families of workers in the Carnegie steel district at Homestead and Munhall, Pa., in the last three days the steel has distributed eighty-six souvenirs of his friendly visit.

Not often to a single industry does it fall to contribute thus notably and with such wide difference in offerings to the material prosperity of the republic.

Race suicide is tried by the furnace at Homestead and is found wanting. The property is suggested to Mr. Carnegie of a distribution of christening gifts in steel preferred. Thus may one "infant industry" encourage another.

For a Tax on Posters.
A tax on posters is suggested. Why not? What reason can be given for permitting the disfigurement of public streets without restraint? A man who covers a dead wall facing on a public street is really grabbing a public franchise.

In Italy, Belgium and France this fact is recognized and billposters pay a franchise tax. There is no question of the legality of such a tax. Municipalities have a right to levy it. Furthermore, the courts have repeatedly held that the taxing power can be exercised to the point of confiscation. There is no limit to it. The posters are usually an offense to the eye and sometimes to morals. Wherever they are, in the subway or on dead walls, they can be readily put out of existence by the taxing method. Tax them to death!—Chicago Record-Herald.

The reason so many people drink Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate is because it keeps them well and they like it. Delicious for cakes and pastry.

ONE of the prettiest belles of Los Angeles danced at the ball at Washington, and it was one of the happiest of the evening. She is Miss May Randall, daughter of Mrs. S. A. She was the girl from Los Angeles at the and her gown, as chronicled in Washington Evening Star, was of cotton with applique of lace over liberty satin. Last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. T. Miller, 523 1/2 South Grand avenue, a most wedding was solemnized. Miss May Randall becoming the bride of Herbert Hamilton of this city. Rev. H. Walker, who was officiating clergyman, and the bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Al McRae. The bride, who is a stunning blonde, was accordingly gowned in a traveling suit of blue broadcloth with a coquette's urban to match. She carried white flowers. The nuptial ceremony was performed beneath a bower of smiles and white tulle. In the broad view of the center was a dainty bed of white carnations. Smiles were gazed everywhere through the room. The curtains in large bowers were artistically placed. Only intimate friends and relatives attended, and following the ceremony, the couple were seated at a table of the table tall vases filled with pink and white carnations, and golden candelabra containing pink and white candles cast a twinkling over the scene. At the end of the occupied by the bride and groom, an appetizing confection was served. This was adorned with tiny blue cupid and cherubs, and the couple, and guests of pink and white. The couple left for a short wedding tour in Southern California, after which they will be at home at No. 305 South Alvarado street.

MORALITY OF THEATER.

Rev. Joseph A. Milburn Declares Stage is Greater Power for Good Than Pulpit.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

CHICAGO, March 22.—From the pulpit of the Plymouth Congregational Church, the Rev. Joseph A. Milburn, the pastor, has declared the theater a greater moral power than the pulpit.

"There are, of course, incidents of the theater which are not good," said he. "But there is evil incident to all things—fiction, music, even to the church."

"Certainly the great dramas in themselves are not bad. And look at the great men and queens and superb women whom the theater has given to the world."

"No, if there is anything which is debilitating about a theater, it is in us. If our taste be high and beautiful, we see the high and beautiful at the theater. It is a reflection of our taste and mind. We get what we look for. If we criticize the theater, then it criticizes ourselves."

"I believe the stage is a religious institution and as such is growing greater. The theater will, I prophesy, one day rise to become the highest and most powerful exponent of good."

"THE AMERICAN DANGER."

BERLIN, March 21.—Friedrich Goldberger, author of "The Land of Unlimited Possibilities," is about to publish simultaneously in Berlin and Brussels a pamphlet entitled "The American Danger," which is a continuation and supplement of his book. He compares the economic forces of the United States and Germany from various standpoints, and although recognizing the resources, technical equipment and capabilities of the United States, he concludes that the American danger does not exist for Europe and especially not for Germany. Herr Goldberger contends that the commercial relations of the United States and Germany ought to be readjusted by a reciprocity treaty.

Free Victor
Recital
at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon—the inaugural of a series of Victor concerts.

Mme. Sembrich and Sig. Caruso are soon to appear in Los Angeles in "Parsifal." The admission price will be prohibitive to some, yet whether you attend the opera or not, the opportunity to hear free the world's greatest singers in their most famous roles is one to be eagerly accepted.

At this recital April records—just in—will be used for the first time.

Now a word as to the Victor itself—do you suppose that Pol Plancon, Louise Homer, Sig. Scotti and the other famous vocalists would ever have given their voices for reproduction to even the very best talking machine if there were the slightest possibility of the degradation of their art by so doing? This most important and delicate task is given solely to the Victor because of its demonstrated fitness for the honor.

We carry in stock every size of the Victor, and new records constantly arriving.

Librettos of "Parsifal" and "Lucia di Lammermoor," the authorized editions, Parsifal in English and German, and Lucia di Lammermoor in Italian and English, on sale at 25c each.

RAREST OF

Striking Phases of Today's Flower Festival.

Every Country on Earth is in the Novel Garden.

Botanists Interested and the People Delighted.

BY BELLE SUMNER ANGER.

The gardens of the world have contributed to the Flower Festival at the Temple Auditorium.

Do you doubt it? Then take note. Here are palms from North Africa, the south of India, and the remote in the festival is that of the Apollo Club, presided over by P. D. Barnhart. This booth is a Mecca for the real flower lover, for there are specimens of rare plants found in the gardens of Los Angeles, and brought here from remote parts of the world. They are all carefully labeled, and in some cases they represent a single shrub or plant in the entire city. The botanists will congregate here and Latin names and plant lore will be flying fast. Here is a fine specimen of Buddleia Madagascariensis, and there is the beautiful bloom of Solita heterophylla, that exquisite bluebell from Australia, of which there are only a very few specimens in all the city. Here is a magnificent Streptocarpus reginae, sometimes called the bird of paradise flower. The Australian Kennedy is represented, and by searching the city Mr. Barnhart has found one specimen of Akebia quinata, a vine with a beautiful chocolate-colored bloom that interests the botanist because it belongs to the distinctively dioclitous class of flowers. From day to day these specimen flowers will be changed, and if you want suggestions as to what to plant in your garden, just drop around to the Apollo Club booth and have a chat with Mr. Barnhart. Hundreds of rare plants are shown in the festival booths and the flowers cannot be named to within thousands; and could they all he carefully listed, it would be shown without doubt that there is not a country on the globe not represented in this festival, so wonderfully does plant life adapt itself to our magnificent climate and soil.

A BUSY DAY.

Chaos and confusion reigned at Hazard's Pavilion yesterday morning for an hour, but that was before Mrs. Robert J. Burdette appeared on the scene. Scarcely had she answered the chorus of "good-mornings" that saluted her from a score of silvery-throated young women, and greeted the chairman of the various committees, drawn the business manager to one side for a moment of consultation, and—presto—everyone was at work.

If Mrs. Burdette was wanted in more than twenty parts of the pavilion at one time she never showed by word or look that she found it confusing, but was here and there, marshaling her forces, and a happier scene cannot be imagined than the busy workers made during the day and until well on into the evening, for it is a gigantic undertaking, this last flower festival in the old pavilion.

IT WAS A HAPPY THOUGHT on the part of the management to impress the services of the original promoters of the flower-festival idea in Los Angeles, and form them into a reception committee, for when the doors are thrown open to the public this evening, up on the big platform, surrounded by banks of beautiful lilacs—thousands of them, and screens of graceful ferns, and vines—will be found the following ladies, who in the pioneer days of Los Angeles were active in conducting flower festivals to a successful issue: Mrs. R. M. Widney, Mrs. A. L. Daskin, Mrs. E. F. Johnson, Mrs. Charles Prager, Mrs. D. Stevens, Mrs. J. M. Stewart, Mrs. F. C. Howes, Mrs. C. W. Blaisdell, Mrs. J. S. Chapman.

DARLING IDEA HITS WOMAN.

Believes in Bare Legs and in
"New Thought."

Mrs. Johnson Emulates the Freak "Nature Man."

Husband Given Divorce from Vegetable Diet.

The naked doctrine of Darling, "nature man," has "caught on!" Strange to say, the victim is a woman, and the sufferers are her husband and child. The lady who believes in bare legs, "new thought," vegetable diet and other things too high for the plain "old thought" initiated to grow in Mrs. Maud Johnson. She emulates the freak who used to roam around Los Angeles attired only in trunks and whiskers; but of course she wears more than trunks, perhaps in lieu of whiskers. Yesterday Judge York granted her husband, Elbert E. Johnson, a decree of divorce.

Mr. Johnson is a prosperous man in the cigar trade and controls several stores. He has lived in North Pasadena with his family, and there was no reason why the little home should not have been a happy one. But Mrs. Johnson became enthused over Darling, when he was the cynosure of all eyes by reason of his dress—or lack of it. His defiance of conventionality, combined with rugged and robust health, appealed to Mrs. Johnson, and old ideas grew upon her.

She arrived at the conclusion that it is wrong to take animal life and to eat unwise and wicked to eat animal food. She pinned her faith to fruits and vegetables. Her husband was not inclined to allow such a thing to make a break in the affection that bound him to his wife.

But as she continued studying "new thought," she discovered that a man who smokes a cigar or drinks a glass of beer is an impure and unhealthy animal, and on these grounds she refused to associate with Johnson as his wife. She took one end of the home and he occupied the other. But even then Mrs. Johnson was not content. She started out to organize a colony of "new thought" men and women. It has been a hardening success up to date, and the prices of spring lamb and green peas continue to be maintained.

With such a work before her, Mrs. Johnson could not continue to be linked and associated even remotely with a

The fact is that Mr. Elbert, who was a wife at present, and it about to sue for divorce, so that connecting his name with that of Mrs. Johnson, which an intimate relation would seem out of place, just now.

Putting this and that together, it is more than likely that Miss White was seen at Ocean Park on Thursday afternoon as stated, and in due time her "disappearance" will be fully explained.

After the divorce is granted there may be a wedding.

BODY NOT IDENTIFIED.

Remains of Soldier in Tolosa Canyon
Removed by Coroner, but Name
May Never be Known

Coroner Trout went to Tolosa Canyon yesterday morning for the purpose of examining the body of the man found hanging to a tree by a hunter Sunday afternoon. The body had been left where it was found, but no person daring to touch it until the coroner arrived, and even the examination made by that official cast no additional light upon the mystery of the identity of the deceased. The condition of the body indicated that it had been hanging where found for a month and possibly longer. The skull was almost bare, most of the hair having dropped off and the flesh was dried and shriveled until the features would have been unrecognizable even to persons who had known the man, if any such could be found.

That the man had slowly strangled to death was indicated by the position of the body. The legs were drawn up so that they did not touch the ground, and the suicide is believed to have thus lifted his feet to increase the strain upon his neck. His effects consisted of two or three blankets, a few trinkets such as any man might have in his pockets, a pocketbook containing 75 cents and a small package of decomposed food. In a pocket was found a card of a Los Angeles lodging-house. Identify the body but investigation along that line resulted in nothing. The body was buried under the tree to which it had been hanging.

Hillside Officer Comes After Fugitive and Remained in Los Angeles
Less Than Six Hours.

Ben Buckley, of the secret service department of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, who has been charged with the arrest of a series of criminals for a score of years, arrived here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking back to Galena, Ill., Clark Golliday who was arrested here Saturday as a fugitive from justice. Buckley was invited to remain a few days as the guests of the local detective who desired to show him some of the points of interest in this part of the State, but he said he had no time for pleasure and on the first train which he could take for the East he left with his prisoner.

Buckley looks more like a farmer than a detective, but he knows his business and when Golliday was turned over to him he promptly handcuffed the prisoner to himself and warned him that if he tried to escape he would kill him.

Golliday was an employee in the C. & Q. baggage room at Galena and with a companion he stole a trunk containing a large sum of money belonging to Harold D. Gray, who had just been married. All the bridegroom's new clothing and linen was in the trunk which Golliday shipped to himself in Los Angeles, afterwards stealing a ticket and following the trunk. His partner in crime was captured in Galena and is now in jail there.

A ray of light appeared on the horizon last night concerning the whereabouts of Miss Mary White, the young lady who mysteriously disappeared from the residence of H. H. Clark on West Twenty-first street Wednesday evening last.

All efforts of the detectives to locate her or to find any trace of her movements other than already reported, have been unavailing.

Late yesterday, however, word that purported to come from J. Barry, swimming teacher at Ocean Park, was received by the police to the effect that he had seen a young lady at Ocean Park at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon whose description tallied in a general way with that given of Miss White in the Sunday papers. He was so impressed with the apparent similarity that he communicated with the friends of the girl yesterday, though he said that the hat she wore did not seem to tally with the description of the hat Miss White is said to have worn when she disappeared.

This information was given to the police last night by Samuel Elbert, The Ocean Park correspondent of The Times stated last night that Mr. Elbert, who has been foreman of the carpenter work on the new bath-house at that place and who has been referred to as the affianced husband of Miss White, had quit his job temporarily and joined in the search for the missing girl.

Mr. Elbert called at The Times office last night and denied that he was engaged to marry Miss White, and said that he was merely a friend of the young lady.

"Oh, of course," he said, "I have taken her out sometimes, just as any of her other friends would do, but it is all a mistake to say that I am engaged to marry her."

The fact is that Mr. Elbert has one wife at present, and it about to sue for divorce, so that connecting his name with that of Miss White, which an intimate relation would seem out of place, just now.

Putting this and that together, it is more than likely that Miss White was seen at Ocean Park on Thursday afternoon as stated, and in due time her "disappearance" will be fully explained.

VICTORY IN RAM'S HORN.

Montgomery Handicap Goes to Williams's Bay Colt.

King's Trophy Second and Otto Stifel Third.

No Betting in Tennessee.
Hart Coin Plenty.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEMPHIS, March 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The classic Montgomery Handicap, first of the big western races of the spring season, was easily taken by the crack western racer, Ram's Horn. The crack son of Butte-Aunt Teresa remained in second place till well in the stretch, where he went to the front and won, going away, by two lengths. King's Trophy came like a whirlwind at the finish, and beat Otto Stifel for second money.

The Ram's Horn victory was very popular, the public sending him to the post carrying thousands of dollars. Crimmins gave the winner a great ride. The victory makes it almost a surety that Ram's Horn will go East and measure strides with the best in the land in the big handicap and weight-for-age events.

PUBLIC PICKS FINISH FIRST.

THREE FAVORITES LAND RIGHT ON WASH. DAY.

Prince Palatine Shook Players of Form by Winning Easily at Very Long Price—Neatness Runs
After the Well Race—One Touted False Alarm a Bad One.

Get-away week opened yesterday at Acot Park with the victory of three well-played favorites, but the sports did not expect the best kind of success on account of the play they made on dead beats that were put forward as paddock specials. One long shot won in Prince Palatine at 20 to 1 in the fifth race, and the other outsider was Neatness in the first race at 5 to 1. The other races went to the favorites with the exception of the second, which went to the second favorite, Sincere.

The big play of the day was made on Rey del Mundo, a Baldwin horse, entered in the first race, but the finished runner, where he was, he figured to run. On a hot upturn he was made the favorite at post time, but blew up as hundreds of such false alarms have during the meeting. There was a large wad of supposedly wise money played on this heat, but he burnt it up in a shocking manner, and was never dangerous at any stage of the race. There are such a poor lot of jacks at the track, now, however, that when a good one like Dugan is on a horse he gets a heavy play, and this Dugan was what doubtless made the false alarm such a likely winner.

Col. Tuppert took another race at five and half furlongs, winning very easily from Cerro Santa and Durban the well-played Americano quitting in the third furlong by a poor ride by the bad rider Helgesen. It was hard work to figure how Dillon and Wood could bring Cerro and Durban into the money, but they did.

Aside from the fourth race the card was very ordinary, but Neatness ran four furlongs and carried 110 lb., the best Father Catchum could do being to finish first. This was a dumpty race, and the result was retained by the owner.

Manager Brooks has offered $500 for any horse to beat Neatness in the series were used on any horse during the meeting, which is an answer to the charge that such things have been used.

SEARCHLIGHT'S NEW RAILWAY.

"Needles, Searchlight and Northern" Assured.

Actual Work to Begin Inside of Thirty Days.

New Field to be Opened up for Los Angeles.

Searchlight and El Dorado Cañon are to be linked by hands of steel with the outside world.

A new standard-gauge railway from Ithex, thirteen miles west of the Needles on the main line of the Santa Fe, to the prosperous mining camps is absolutely assured, and actual work of construction will begin in less than thirty days.

The final survey of the new road has been completed and it is expected that the line, which will be a feeder for the Santa Fe, will be in operation in ninety days after work has been commenced. Col. C. A. Hopkins, president of the Quartzite Mining Company of Searchlight, is at the head of the new undertaking. Prominent mine owners in the two camps have subscribed the necessary money and the bonds have been placed without seeking an outside market.

A prominent Santa Fe Railway official, who returned yesterday from Needles after he had inspected the proposed new route, is authority for the announcement that the new line will shortly be constructed.

"Needles, Searchlight and Northern" is the name of the company which will operate the new road. Starting from the main line of the Santa Fe at Ithex Station, the road will traverse a little desert country, requiring little grading, to Searchlight, thirty-seven miles distant, thence on to El Dorado Cañon at the head of navigation on the Colorado River. No bridges will be required and the curvature will be reduced to the minimum. It is estimated that the road will cost approximately $200,000.

"Tonnage" is a factor that need not be computed in estimating the wisdom of the venture, for the output of the larger mines at Searchlight and El Dorado Cañon is in sight. A great saving in the cost of transportation will be made when the road is finally completed.

HAY'S CONDITION.

The Secretary of State Likely Never to Return to His Work in Washington.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Hon. John H. Hayes, Secretary of State, who recently departed from this country on a sea voyage for his health, is regarded as being in a critical condition, and those who have had opportunity to know him personally, with a degree of official intimacy, believe that he has rendered his country the last service of which he will be physically capable. Secretary Hayes was born in Salem, Ind., October 1, 1835, and therefore is in the sixty-seventh year of his age. He has always been an active brain worker, but has led a sedentary life. During the past three years he has been practically without any physical exertion. Two years ago he was warned of incipient symptoms of Bright's disease, and he has been very careful since that time to avoid all food and drinks which might tend to increase the weakness thus indicated to him by specialists.

Last November he was warned by Dr. Oeder to take a rest, or go on a sea voyage, even if it were only of short duration, but he has always been a strong-willed man, and he insisted that he should remain at his post of duty until after the inauguration of President Roosevelt, and he did so. As soon thereafter as arrangements could be made he took his departure, and so feeble had he become that he fell in a faint of physical collapse, while being taken aboard the steamer.

The last word sent from the steamer sailed, was that Mr. Hayes had recovered from the faint and was feeling stronger. But this was misleading. Those who know the physical history and present condition of this distinguished public servant, believe that his complete strength will never return; this largely on account of his age, and his disregard of many of the laws of health.

Eminent men in national affairs, regardless of political affiliations, believe that he has made a great contribution to the knowledge of international law, and greater mastery of genuine diplomacy, than any Secretary of State the country has known.

He has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gardner, Mr. Powell states that he has made shipments of oranges from different parts of the State for the purpose of ascertaining for his own information the condition upon arrival on the Atlantic Coast.

The president of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Company, George Wallace, is at the hotel, accompanied by Mrs. Wallace and their daughter, Mrs. G. M. Tuttle, and son of St. Louis. Mr. Wallace's company operates in Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Utah. Miss Arcadia Wallace, daughter of George Wallace, was the guest of friends at the hotel yesterday.

RAREST OF POSTY SHOWS.

Mrs. J. W. Hendricks, Mrs. A. A. Dodsworth, Mrs. E. F. Richards, Mrs. C. E. Day, Mrs. J. A. Fairchild, Mrs. D. K. Edwards, Mrs. M. M. Fette, Miss McClellan and Mrs. H. P. F. Widger.

The stage, which is massed with callas and festoons of green, has been decorated by Mrs. Adams, and it took a bevy of lively girls and a dozen men a full day to arrange it in all its loveliness.

Mrs. C. S. DeLano designed the Old Mission at the left hand of the entrance, and a beautiful sight it is, covered over with climbing English ivy, and aparagus sprengeri, and its handsome crosses and old mission bells made out of splendid margarites.

Spanish señoras and señoritas will receive all the tourists who wish to inspect the old mission. Miss Mabel Quintana has charge of the candy booth, in festoons of yellow roses. Miss Harris has the lemonade booth, all pink and white with roses too. The Hotel Pepper is a slightly structure of pepper boughs and masses of sweet peas, and is likely to attract much attention, for it was decorated by Mrs. W. W. Hadley, who has walked off with two or three first prizes in former festivals and fiestas, and there are those who think she may do it again.

Opposite the Hotel Pepper is a great white and yellow rose-mountain, both where the Fraternal Brotherhood has set up its banners. Mrs. Vawter, who represents the Ocean Park Floral Company, has put something like 10,000 carnations into a great tower that takes the central position in the pavilion.

Over beyond the Hotel Pepper, Paul de Longpre has established his art gallery, and the critics will have ample opportunity to compare Mr. De Longpre's painted roses with the real thing, for the artist's garden is to be represented as well as his brush. Smilax and bamboo make a background for the wild daisies that decorate the "Pepper booth," presided over by Mrs. Baskerville. "Check your babies" will be the advice given here.

ELECTRIC CAR OF POSTIES.

A decidedly interesting feature is a real electric car sent by the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company and decorated by Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gabel. Mr. Gabel is the train master of the road, and the car decorated in carnations, Cherokee roses and electric lights. In one of the first cars run between Los Angeles and Santa Monica, in service over twelve years ago, which time great changes have taken place in the building of electric cars, as in the "Balloons Route."

The clock room is in charge of Mrs. Grace Jacobs, and is well screened by the graceful bamboo. Out in the annex are two most unique booths, the one is a wilderness of wild mustard in all its golden beauty, and on each side of the mustard is a booth of white railing around the upper balconies. A green background with festoons of apparatus and on each side of the hall six great hanging baskets full of lovely vines and margarites, with just enough of the famous Grant geraniums with their vivid red light, to remind one that they came from the old-fashioned hill.
